

HOBBS AND POLITICAL THEORY SYMPOSIUM

Philip Pettit, Made With Words: Hobbes on Language, Mind, and Politics (Princeton: Princeton University Press, 2008)
Quentin Skinner, Hobbes and Republican Liberty (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2008)

You are invited to participate in this symposium on 'Hobbes and Political Theory', which has been organized under the auspices of the Centre for the Study of the History of Political Thought and the Department of History at Queen Mary, University of London. The symposium will focus on recently published work by Philip Pettit and Quentin Skinner. There will be two short presentations in the morning and two short presentations in the afternoon. Presentations will be followed by open discussion.

Date: Friday 20 February 2009

Time: 10:00–4:30

Venue: Stewart House (Room ST274/275), 32 Russell Square, London WC1B 5DN

Speakers:

Christopher Brooke (Politics and International Relations, University of Oxford)

Alan Cromartie (Politics and International Relations, University of Reading)

Chandran Kukathas (Government, London School of Economics)

Philip Pettit (Department of Politics, Princeton University)

Ian Shapiro (Department of Political Science, Yale University)

Quentin Skinner (Humanities, Queen Mary, University of London)

Since numbers are limited for this event, participation is conditional on advance confirmation by email. There is a small charge of £10 for the event.

R.S.V.P: Richard Bourke (r.bourke@qmul.ac.uk) or Joel Isaac (j.t.isaac@qmul.ac.uk)

This event is sponsored by the Humanities and Social Sciences Graduate School and the Department of History, Queen Mary, University of London.